

Module Assessment Overview

Central to CSU44081 is a team-based Business Concept Development Project, which will run throughout the semester supported by an exceptional team of mentors drawn from our entrepreneurial alumni and friends. During this project, you will develop, validate the feasibility of, and make the case for a business idea to underpin a scalable high-tech venture including undertaking appropriate user and customer engagement and needs analysis, desk research including market research and competitor analysis, potential prototyping activities, and financial planning. The principal deliverable from the project is expected to be a convincing proposal for follow-on funding to continue development of the idea, for example, as might be submitted to a business incubator or accelerator programme.

In addition, you will be required to complete two on-line quizzes addressing the course content during the semester.
